Message from the General Secretary

Greetings!

As in previous years, 2018 brought its share of challenges and opportunities related to Relief and Community Development. A series of natural disasters, such as the earthquake in Uttarakhand, Floods in Bihar, West Bengal and Gujarat, and Cold wave in North India. We were among many tragedies affecting millions of lives and causing people to become homeless and dependent on more fortunate others, like us, for their basic survival. These difficult circumstances served to compound the poverty and strife that already afflicts the majority of those living in the less developed parts of the country.

But even amid all these natural and human crises, we believe there is still hope as long as there exist noble people committed to helping less-fortunate members of our global human family, regardless of who they are or where they live.

Since our inception, Human Welfare Foundation has always considered it our moral and responsibility to embody social his group of people who endeavour to make massive positive differences in the lives of others, even with the most modest resources. With this vision, with inspiration from our faith, and with the generous support of donors like you, during 2018 Human Welfare Foundation successfully assisted hundreds of thousands of needy people spread over the length and breadth of th country. Our programs strive to meet basic human needs by providing destitute people with food, water, health care, education and income support, thus giving them a chance to build better lives.

It has been both humbling and reassuring for our team to see how generously thousands of new and existing donors have responded and contributed to our appeals whenever we asked you for help. For this, we are honoured and grateful. At the same time, we are also constantly aware of our mandate to discharge this trust through professionally, responsibly and transparently delivering relief whenever and wherever it is most needed.

In closing, we hope that the following pages will bear witness to our humble efforts and your generous contributions, which together made it possible for our many programs to successfully continue helping the needy.

I ask you to please remember us in your sincerest thoughts and prayers. As always, we look forward to your constructive feedback, suggestions and support for the rest of 2026 and beyond.

Thank you!

T. Arif Ali
General Secretary

EDUCATION

Education provides the key for a better future, helping people to increase their skills, fulfil their potential and pursue their goals. But millions of children across India are denied even basic education. We aim to provide impoverished communities with access to education or training, which offers them a way out of poverty. By working directly with local communities, we ensure that our educational projects are relevant to their needs.

We believe that access to education is not just a basic human right, but a key factor in reducing child labor and poverty. In HWF, we strive to bring the un-enrolled children back to school seats, we build and reconstruct schools and educational facilities and ensure to create a healthy teaching environment.

RARE AND CRIPPLING DISEASE

Family of Aligarh

Farhan Ahmad Usmani is a resident of Aligarh, Uttar Pradesh. His three children Alqamah Usmani (13 years old), Fauzan Usmani (8 years old) and Rayyan Usmani (6 years old) are suffering from the 'Delayed Milestone Problem' since 6 months after their birth. They have been undergoing the treatment in PGI Lucknow for the last 6 years.

Unfortunately, it could not make any progress in their health condition. After the results of treatment, the physicians had advised their family to look after them at home. They have discovered that no cure exists for this disease currently. HWF identified this critical case in April 2017. HWF Health Care team along with Mr. Shamsuddin (IGIB, New Delhi) have visited Aligarh and adopted the children. Their treatment was started under the supervision of Dr. Sheffali (AIIMS) and later consulted them with physiotherapy. Currently, HWF team visits them and provides medicines in every month since August 2017.

Family of Agra

Mohammad Nazir, a resident of Agra, had petitioned the government that six of his children be euthanised. Nazir and his wife Tabassum's desperate plea to terminate the lives of their children was preceded by 15 agonising years of watching six of their eight children debilitated by a malevolent disease that destroys their neurons and steadily wastes away their muscles. Human Welfare Foundation has been coordinating between the family and the CSIR- Institute of Genomics and Integrative Biology (CSIR-IGIB), which is doing research on the patients to find the reasons and an early cure to the disease. HWF also helped in rehabilitating the family and then arranging for the logistics and medical expenses at All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) and Al Shifa Hospital, New Delhi. Two of their children have started going to school. HWF Health Care team has managed the annual medical checkup of Agra family in AIIMS. The physician has given the next appointment for check up in June 2018 after one year progress. HWF has solved their issues of land.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

No man can live alone. We always need our family, friends and the community around us, in good times and bad. Unfortunately, we often forget that community needs our help too.

Small acts of kindness can go a long way to bring a smile on another's face. It costs little, yet does a lot. That is the reason why Human Welfare Foundation, through Vision 2026 program, is engaged in helping the poor and destitute.

To improve the quality of lives of those living in poverty and social exclusion, HWF is implementing a wide array of community development projects such as:

ORPHAN CARE

Orphaned children are among the most vulnerable in society. They are often left in the care of elderly relatives who do not have the ability to support them and often consequently receive no education and are driven into work at a very early age missing out on a real childhood and education. This obviously affects them for the rest of their lives and they are not able to develop into respectable members of society.

Human Welfare Foundation's Orphan Care Programme is designed to address the needs of the orphans and improve their lives in a way that respects and preserves the customs and traditions of the communities in which they reside. Through Orphan Care Program we not only assist orphans and needy children, but also benefits the communities in which they live.

Our scheme runs in northern and eastern states of India and we sponsor children of all faiths, gender, ages and abilities. Our local partners keep an eye on the progress of these children and make sure that they are getting the best possible care.

Under the Orphan Care Programme, we support construction and maintenance of Orphanages as well as disbursing monthly financial support to orphan children living with their families and relative. 2,095 orphans are receiving monthly financial assistance under the Orphan Care Program.

ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT

India is the fastest growing large economy in the world today. Despite this, one in every five Indians is poor. 22 percent of the population or 270 million people are living below the poverty line.

Muslims, the largest minority who make up 14.2% of India's 1.25-billion population, come out pretty much at the bottom of most socio-economic indices, even a decade after a high-level government probe into their historical disadvantages led to policy actions. Almost a quarter of India's 370,000 beggars are Muslims, newly released data from the 2011 Census show, reinforcing that the community still lags on most counts despite the country's rapid economic growth.

The roots of poverty in India run the deepest among the members of scheduled castes and tribes in the country's rural areas. In 2005, these groups accounted for 80 per cent of poor rural people, although their share in the total rural population is much smaller.

HWF's Vision 2026 plan addresses the root causes of poverty through long-term solutions and believes in promoting sustainable livelihoods. A sustainable livelihood is a way of earning a living that empowers people to become self-sufficient and less reliant on humanitarian aid. HWF works hard to empower the rural population through technical training and self employment projects.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING CENTRES

HWF establishes Vocational Training Centres to provide short-time job-oriented courses. These courses are formulated to make the youth capable of getting job opportunities at various fields. ## WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

With two-thirds of the world's illiterate population female and countless girl children not receiving a basic education, supporting women in developing countries is vital to helping overcome critical social issues such as poverty and unemployment.

By empowering women and giving them access to opportunities in the fields of education, employment and health care, the whole society will get benefits. While supporting women to achieve new heights, we can control cycle of poverty and infant mortality rate. Educating female child would ensure more equitable tomorrow.

In India, women are born into a society that is still having to face social inequalities. Through our initiatives, we aim to assist in gender empowerment through various educational, healthcare and income initiatives and empower local women by educating them on their rights the opportunities available to them.

One of the key goals of the Human Welfare

Foundation is to empower women from poor and marginalised section of the society. Almost 50 per cent of the beneficiaries of the HWF activities are women. Around half of the scholarship fund goes to female students. We also organise different programmes such as counseling of adolescent girls, socio-legal awareness and skill development programmes for women.

In its report on human rights in India during 2010, Human Rights Watch stated India had "significant human rights problems". They identified lack of accountability for security forces and impunity for abusive policing including "police brutality, extrajudicial killings, and torture" as major problems.

Along with advocates, social activists and grassroots para-legal social workers dedicated to using the legal system to protect and advance the civil and human rights in India, HWF tries to address these problems in order to alleviate the sufferings of the victims of police brutality. During the past years, we have been working to defend the rights of the underprivileged sections of the society and to provide legal aid assistance, protection and rehabilitation to the survivors of intolerance and all sorts of discrimination and oppression.

Following are some of our very basic but important interventions :

Workshops for Para-Legal Workers and Human Rights Defenders

Awareness Campaigns on Civil Rights issues

Helping retired government employee in getting their pensions.

Helping Citizens get ration card and similar services, which become difficult for a poor person due to lack of knowledge about the process of getting one.

Helping people in benefiting from the government aid schemes.

RESPONDING TO EMERGENCIES

HWF believes in the rights of all individuals to receive aid in an emergency, based on need. However, women and children face disproportionate risks in emergencies, such as forcible displacement and human rights violations, so emergency responses often are planned to meet their immediate needs. Our disaster management activities are coordinated under the banner of Society for Bright Future (SBF).

Society for Bright Future (SBF), a national level disaster management organisation, was formed as part of Vision 2016 program. SBF specializes in Emergency Relief and Rehabilitation and has quickly responded to all natural and man-made disasters in recent past.

MONITORING & EVALUATION

For Human Welfare Foundation monitoring and evaluation is a vital aspect of our work which can dramatically improve people's standard of living. One of the main objectives of carrying out evaluations is to learn how we can improve our development work, to make a tangible difference to people's lives in some of the poorest corners in our beloved country.

Apart from Annual Board meetings, HWF's Executive Committee sits together on quarterly basis to review the works completed in preceding period and to make necessary improvements.

We do organize Monthly Staff Meetings of all the departments and then Quarterly Review Meets to maximise the potential impact. HWF is aware of how much difference monitoring and evaluation can make to people's lives and is actively working on not only improving how we share this information internally with our colleagues, but also externally with our development peers.

YOUR CONTRIBUTION....

The generosity and kindness of individuals, groups or organisations has allowed Human Welfare Foundation (HWF) to deliver life changing programmes for last 10 years. Thousands like you, who persevere day in and day out as volunteers and partners of this humane venture, form its backbone, putting in a lot of effort and time to turn this dream into reality.

We take this opportunity to acknowledge and appreciate the value of your treasured support. The poor who cannot afford a set of clothes, the countless starving sisters forced to sell their honour for a few crumbs, parents too indigent to pay for the legal fights for their unjustly incarcerated children, and millions of kids so far denied a chance for education - all these look up to the generous people like you - with desperate hope. If we can leave aside a small portion of any extravagances on weddings, dinner parties, entertainments and the like, it will mean a lot for them: one meal for the hungry, a pair of clothes for the needy, a scholarship for a child.

The destitute need your support in cash and kind and you are capable enough to support the noble cause of catering to their needs. We expect your helping hands ever in future so that the dark present of those people can be lightened in near future. It's only people like you who make us confident enough to take new initiatives.

Your small acts of kindness can have a huge impact on the society.
